The value or percentage of a business interest is to be determined as of the time of the required filing. The value assigned to a holding is the fair market value. For the purpose of this section, certificates of deposit, bank savings or checking accounts in a savings and loan, shares in a credit union, life insurance policies, annuities, notes, bonds, debentures, and mortgages need not be disclosed under this provision. Business interest includes, among other things, property held for rental, farming, commercial purposes and ownership of mineral rights. Business means any corporation, association, partnership, proprietorship, trust, joint venture, and every other business interest, including ownership or use of land for income. The receipt of interest, dividends and mineral royalties does not constitute "compensation" as the term as defined, and those matters need not be reported under this provision; however, ownership interest concerning these items may need to be reported under section "C".

The phrase "client or customer" relates only to businesses or combination of businesses. In the case of a partnership, it is the partner's proportionate share of the business, and hence the fee, which is significant, without regard to expenses of the partnership. An individual who receives a salary as opposed to portions of fees or commissions is generally not required to report under this provision.
